Juror

Laura Tenekjian is currently the assistant curator at the University of Mary Washington Galleries in Fredericksburg. As the assistant curator, she works closely with the director to develop exhibit ideas and present exhibitions for the university community and general public and to care for, research, and exhibit the UMW art collection. She also works with Mary Washington students, training them in the practices and procedures of museum and gallery work. Laura graduated from UMW in 2007 with a BA in Art History. During her undergraduate studies, she held internships at the Children's Museum of Virginia in Portsmouth and Gari Melchers Home and Studio at Belmont in Fredericksburg. While working at the UMW galleries, Laura has been involved in all of the exhibition planning and installation, and has worked closely with the artists involved in each exhibit.
